NEWS RELEASE

Dynamic Industries, Inc., a Dynamic Energy Services International Company was awarded Sub-Contracts to build large diameter clad piping spools for subsea application and other subsea support structures.

Lafayette, Louisiana – May 23, 2014 – Dynamic Industries, Inc. (dii), a leading fabrication and service provider to the Global Oil, Gas and Energy Industries, announced today that it was awarded two sub-contracts for the fabrication of subsea and topside components for a new project development in the Gulf of Venezuela.

Dennis LaFleur, VP of Sales Dynamic Industries, Inc. US Fabrication Division said, “This is a significant project for Dynamic, for the development of procedures and expanding our experience in the fabrication of large and medium size clad piping components as well as other structural subsea equipment and platform installation aids. Dynamic looks forward to performing this project and anticipates that it will lead to a lasting relationship.”

Jeff Clement, EVP & COO US Fabrication Division added, “This project will employ approximately 70 employees at its peak over a six month period. Part of the scope of work for this project includes the welding of Cladded Pipe, which Dynamic is very excited about. This new procedure will enhance our already vast Welding Procedure Matrix.

Dynamic’s Reputation Is “You, our employees and their family see Dynamic as a great place to work. Our Customers are confident in our abilities. Our Suppliers’ reputations are enhanced through working with us. The Governing Bodies rely on us to do the right thing. The Communities value our presence. Our Investors see us as Safe, Efficient, and Cost Effective.” Our goal every day is “Everyone Arrives Home Safely”
